

There is irrefutable evidence that media violence along with interactive (simulated) video games are preparing a generation of youngsters the skill and will to kill without conscience. Never before in recorded human history has there ever been a single case of juvenile mass murders, yet our times have produced hundreds. We are dropping the ball on our watch and we are willfully ignorant of the one of the root causes. The sources of this tragedy must be stopped now. Those of you responsible for planting the seeds of these offenses, how will you escape judgment? Was the price worth it?
